

SUBSCRIBER CONTENT: March 21, 2014, 12:00am HST

► HE SAID IT

“We are essentially a startup with a 100-year legacy.”

JONATHAN PARRISH, executive director of the Hawaii Symphony Orchestra. The two-year-old orchestra, along with the Honolulu Symphony Orchestra, which went bankrupt in 2009, have been providing local audiences with classical music for about a century.